Dear Sir:

Greetings! I was in Malaysia last month for a holiday and I came across your product (Khakhara Jeera) while I was shopping at a Cold Storage Supermarket. Since I'm a Lacto-ovo-peso vegetarian and a health-buff, I decided to sample this Khakhara after reading all the information on its packaging. I was so glad I did because it really tastes great. Actually, I felt bad that I bought only one pack.

Anyway, because your product is really good, I want to have more of it. I just visited your website and I found out that you have quite a number of products. my question is, where can I buy these here in Manila? I know that the Indian population in the Philippines is so low compared to Malaysia and Singapore, so I worry that most probably there's nobody here who's distributing your product. How about in Singapore? I frequent the place more than Malaysia so I'd be very glad if you can inform me which stores are selling your products.

Thanks for taking time to read this e-mail. More power and keep it up!

Respectfully,

Rachel DL. Ramos
